

ACATEC

foreword

Your reflections of friends and experiences associated with the past year at Western will become more and more rippled by the winds of time. If, in years to come, you again turn these pages, and if a faint reflection of the past appears on the horizon of your mind, then our efforts have not been in vain.

With this thought in mind, we bring you this Thirteenth edition of the Acatec.

Dedication

Co-operation among nations and the establishment of world citizenship must become a reality if man is to survive in the world of tomorrow.

The training which the youth of today receives is the greatest factor in the forwarding of these aims. With the education students acquire during their high school days they will be prepared to meet this challenge.

To this ideal this book is dedicated.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Where's the dummy? Should I bleed the blacks on the insert page? Is 36 point large enough for Mr. Woodman's name? These questions may sound like double talk to the student body, but to the Acatec staff, they are familiar words. Yes, the publishing of the Acatec entails much more than the writing of biographies and the photographing of club pictures. These are but initial steps. Hours of checking and re-checking of material are spent by the section and rewrite editors before the art staff could begin to paste type and send the book to the printers.

True, we have had our ups and downs, throughout the past months, but they have been overshadowed by the cheerfulness and unselfish co-operation among the Acatec staff.

Because there were so many willing workers who contributed their time and efforts towards making this book possible, I find it difficult to express my thanks to each one individually.

To Mr. Woodman and the teaching staff who were always ready with a word of friendly advice; to our genial caretakers, who swept up our mess, after work sessions, to the staff of Everett's Studio, who captured the many priceless expressions on the faces of the graduates and undergrads; to our associates at the Commonwealth Press for putting up with our many mistakes; on behalf of the Acatec staff, I extend a sincere "thank you."

Without the financial experience of Mr. Maberly, our business advisor and the stable advice of our production advisor, Mr. Webb, the Acatec could not meet standards demanded by its subscribers. The job of advisor is not a glorious one. Throughout the year these two teachers volunteered their time and experience to help boost the name of Western Canada High School.

The Acatec staff of 1949-1950 began the task of preparing this edition without the training of many of their predecessors; but made up for this with a never-ending reserve of ambition to learn the details pertaining to this annual publication.

The students pictured on these two pages do not constitute the entire Acatec staff. Students not pictured include Anabella Monilaws, Ethel Thomes and Isabella Monilaws who were responsible for the activity write-ups; Evelyn Manzara, Jean Gilchrist, Pat Bradish and Barbara Waters, who aided the biography editors with this section of the book.

The money received from Student subscription does not cover the cost of printing this book. The Acatec business staff, who are concerned with the collection of this money through the sale of advertising hold one of the most thankless jobs connected with the Acatec. Thank you for all your assistance.

This book is now the property of the students. Be critical in your comments, so that editors in the future may profit by our mistakes.

"Good luck" to next year's Acatec staff. Remember, when disappointments detour your aims, that courage consists in hanging on one minute longer.

CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar.

Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

"Opportunity Knocks" heads a programme that has been heard by practically all students and this heading is worth the attention of the readers of The Acatec, especially those who are completing their scholastic training and preparing for a future career.

The ground work laid during the time spent at Western Canada High School should have developed in you traits of character that will determine the success of your future vocation; Attention to detail, mastery of subject, regularity, assiduity, determination, thoughtfulness, consideration of others, obedience, respect of authority, co-operation, and the ability to take advantage of the situation when "Opportunity Knocks."

Your success in the future will be determined largely by the energy you put into your vocation and the receptive attitude you display with regard to advice and the experience of those who have mastered the details in your chosen work. Appreciation and Apprehension are two qualities that should be cultivated by all young people as they eventually lead to that success which is the goal of all ambitious and energetic people.

Your teachers at Western join in wishing you a successful future; a future, rich in experience, full of happy associations, replete with many and varied interests, and complete with the knowledge that you have made the most of your opportunities.

Your life and actions have been largely planned for you up to this time but from now your future lies in your own choosing and remember Whittier's injunction:

"We shape ourselves the joy or fear
Of which the coming life is made,
And fill our Future's atmosphere
With sunshine or with shade."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The rung of a ladder was never meant to be rested upon, but only to hold a man's foot long enough to enable him to put the other somewhat higher.—Huxley

Your high school life is like a ladder. The rung you rest upon depends on yourself. Your choice of a future occupation matters not so much as your desire to do that job to the best of your ability. Your training here in Western's halls should stand you in good stead. May your faith in steadfast principles and high ideals never falter.

This year, the Students' Union Council has added another rung to the Union "ladder," by the organization of an Inter-School Council. It is hoped that this advisory board, in the future will assist student councils in the city high schools to regulate social activities.

As President of the Students' Union, I would like to express my appreciation of the assistance and the friendly advice given me by the principal, teachers, maintenance staff, the Students' Council, and the student body.

In endeavoring to achieve the objectives of the Union—which is only three years old—we may not have accomplished all that was possible, so that we pass on this challenge to future executives—"Good Luck, and do a better job than we have done."

Barry Jones

Seated: Hazel Proctor, Barry Jones, Jean Burgimiester.

This year the Inter-school Council was started, with delegates from all the high schools. This council was established for the purpose of preventing friction among the schools, and for promoting good-will. The council sponsored the Inter-school Bonfire and ended the year with a dance held at Mount Royal College.

One of the most profitable Union sponsored dances of the year was the Tuckledown.

On February 10, the Students' Union assisted the Ski Club with their annual dance.

The Home and School Association sponsored a party on February 30.

On March 25, the Annual Athletic banquet was held in our beautiful new school cafeteria which proved to be a great success.

The fifth annual Operations Western was the most successful, and the best attended Union dance of the year. At this dance, Miss Western was crowned. The Proctor Family, who provided the entertainment, have their usual sparkling performance.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with flower covered trellises, bridges and a wishing well for the Graduation

Formal which was held on Thursday, June 1st.

VALEDICTORIANS

For the graduating students, tonight marks the end and the beginning of two different democracies. The democracy we are leaving is the one we have enjoyed for three or four years at Western Canada High School. The one we are entering is the democracy of the Dominion of Canada.

When we entered Western as scared, bewildered freshmen we did not immediately realize that it was a democracy we were getting into. We thought of it more as a huge overwhelming place with pitfalls lurking to catch the unwary. We could not find the right classrooms. We got lost in the tunnels. There were more teachers than we could conveniently remember the names of, and there were more students milling around us than we have ever seen together before. It was like a mass refuge camp for the first day or so, and then, suddenly, everything fell into place. We learned the difference between the East and West wings, and as we settled into our courses we remembered the teachers and even the rooms they taught in.

And we learned other things too. We learned that we could vote for the people we wanted to represent us, that we could join any clubs we wanted to, that we could find friends among students from all over the city. Student guidance, sports, electives, clubs, shop courses, and education were offered to us from an overflowing cornucopia. It was, indeed, a true democracy.

In our democracy the Prime Minister is Mr. Woodman, the Cabinet the Students' Union Executive, and the House of Commons the Union representatives elected from the different classes and clubs. The income experts are the teachers and the homework is the income tax we pay.

But the greatest factor in our democracy is Free Enterprise—the chance that every student has to work and get ahead at whatever he is interested in, with the help of the wonderful teachers and equipment we have here at Western. We could go just as far and as fast as we wanted to, and only our own willingness to work was the measuring stick of how we succeeded. Opportunities lay all around us. Let's hope that we have taken full advantage of these opportunities, because we are working for ourselves and our own happiness.

Yes, Western has prepared us for life, not only with a good education, but with a good knowledge of democracy—what it gives, and what it demands. So that when we enter, as adult citizens, into democracy of Canada, we will know what a wonderful thing it is, and we will not take it for granted.

The Dominion of Canada and we graduates are very much alike. We are both young and not quite fully matured. Bruce Hutchinson expresses this similarity exceptionally well in these lines of prose. "My country is hidden in the dark and teeming brain of youth upon the eve of its manhood. My country has not found itself nor felt its power nor learned its true place. It is strength and weakness, despair and joy—for we are young, my brothers. But now our time has come and we are ready." That's Canada. That's us.

Margaret Waldie

Let me tell you a graduation story:

After checking out, dashing from school towards the bus . . . I stopped in astonishment!

Ahead, was not the small gateway on Seventeenth Avenue, but a monster iron barrier. Above the rusty lock, a strange sign read "THE WORLD."

"That sign surprises everybody," chuckled a wise voice. Then I noticed the queer little man beside the gate. His eyes twinkled when he asked, "Shall I open the lock?"

"Yes, please . . . No! I'm all confused. This big gate, that sign . . . THE WORLD . . ."

"That's why the gate is here,—to make you stop and read the sign. You see, some people are unhappy. They race furiously along the highway of life. They don't know where they are, or where they're going. There are signs to tell them, but they never stop to look."

"Will I, too, be unhappy out there?"

"We try to avoid that at Western, because this school is a preparation for life. When the student's ready, when he has faith in himself, we unlock the gate. You're not afraid to go now, are you?"

"I . . . I'm not sure. I tried to do well in school activities,—but does that prepare me for the world?"

The old man shook his head sadly. "Son, you don't realize how lucky you are. At Western, you not only learned about 'making' a living, you learned about 'living.' Why even in sports. . . ."

"Sir, did you know we won the provincial football crown, and a whole collection of basketball trophies? We don't always win, but even when we lose, we still smile and sing 'Hurrah for dear old Western.'"

Reverently, the little man said, "Son, LIFE is a game. Some win, and some lose—but remember this, always have fun playing it."

Then it was, that I turned to take my last look at Western. I wanted to remember everything, even little things, like the drinking fountain, the corner table in the cafeteria. There were so many faces, so many smiles!

"Sir, now I think I am r . . ." The little man had disappeared. The gate was wide open.

AUTOGRAPHS

Watch Her—When a woman motorist puts out her left hand, it is an almost sure sign that she is about to do something.

A boor is a man who talks so much about himself that you don't get time or a chance to talk about yourself.

Reality—Very few men wake up to find themselves famous. They usually dream they're famous, then wake up.

The Year Book has yet to be printed which does not contain this delightful bit of fantasy.

What have you done St. Peter asked,
That I should admit you here?
I ran the "Acatec" the Editor said,
At Western for one long year.
St. Peter pityingly shook his head,
And gravely touched the bell;
Come in, poor thing, select a harp,
You've had your share of hell.

Right: Dot Blyth

On Friday, April 28, at our annual "Operations Western," Miss Dorothy Blyth was crowned "Miss Western of 1950" by last year's queen Grethe Gottfredson. Pat Laidlaw and Winnie Brown were her ladies-in-waiting.

Every club in the school was informed that they could enter a nomination and when nominations closed the following contestants were entered.

They also put on a fine display of their work at Edmonton and Cardston. These brave lads and lassies practised on Thursday and Friday mornings at eight o'clock—a time when most students are crawling out of bed.

Darlene Palmer took over the leadership of the majorettes after the withdrawal of Phyllis Benay and capably handled the job for the rest of the term. The other majorettes are: Dorothy Wilson, Jackie Muir and Jill Webster.

For the annual Miss Western contest the Booster Club sponsored lovely Marion Kozlovsky, giving her an excellent publicity campaign.

The Fencing Club has again been established at Western, for the first time since before the war. The club is directed by Gordon Atkinson, and was formed by a group of students, who expressed the desire to learn the noble art of fencing.

Fencing included foil work, sabre work, and epee work. The foil is a thrust weapon and is only used in that field. The sabre, is strictly speaking, a slash weapon, and the epee is the combination of the two.

The class first commenced to learn the foot work, later the handplay minus the weapons. The weapons were finally used, and they learned the proper guards, parries and lunges. They also studied moving pictures on Fencing.

Towards the end of the term, the members of the club were learning the real combat work, in which fencing masks are a must.

Beside the regular Bible Study meetings, there were special meetings, a Christmas radio skit, a Pioneer Camp booster meeting, and the special attractions.

Parties for all the I.S.C.F.'ers were put on by the Crescent, Western and Central groups in turn. Missionary meetings were held monthly for all groups with firesides also held monthly. Special mention should be made of the fall and spring Inter-School conferences. The spring conference, held in the Easter holidays at the Canmore Ranch, was of a special blessing to all students.

Through the past fourteen years Miss Mitchell has shown her versatility in the production of plays for audiences at Western. This has been proved through such plays as "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Our Town," "As You Like It," and "Alice in Wonderland."

It has been Miss Mitchell's ambition to bring to Calgary audiences plays which involve a large cast, so as to give all her Drama students a chance to become acquainted with the finer points of theatre. This year was no exception, as the cast included over fifty Drama I and Drama II students.

The opening scene, showing an Inn Yard, introduces Christopher Sly to the audience, as an irresponsible drunkard, also a hunting party including a lord, the owner of the Inn.

For his own amusement the lord and his helpers, after many struggles, convince Sly that he is a Lord, and married to a pretty young girl.

A troop of travelling players are engaged to present, "The Taming of the Shrew," for Sly's benefit.

Kate, the screaming shrew, who has dreams of marriage but no admirers because of her disposition, takes it out on her sister Bianca. Bianca, who is of an entirely opposite nature, and has more than enough admirers who want her hand in marriage, must wait until Kate is married before her father will consent to her marriage.

Petruchio, after learning this from his friend Hortensio, a suitor to Bianca, agrees to help him by marrying Kathrine. Baptista, the girl's father, does not consult Kathrine before giving his consent to the marriage of Kathrine and Petruchio. Kathrine, upon the discovery of this scheme, refuses the agreement.

In the next delightful scene between Kathrine and Petruchio, he uses brute force, in a proposal of marriage, to persuade Kate to say yes.

Arrangements for the wedding are made but alas, no Petruchio! Just as all have given up hope, Petruchio, the worst for liquor, and in no condition to carry out his duties as a groom, arrives to claim his bride. After the wedding, despite protests from Kathrine, Petruchio forces her to return home with him before their wedding guests have time to celebrate the event. Petruchio makes a wager that his wife will do anything that he bids. The wives of Hortensio, and Lucentio do not come when requested, but Kate, who is now faithful, does his bidding, thereby, Petruchio wins the wager, and at the same time proving he has tamed "Kate," the shrew.

Christopher Sly imagines that he is Petruchio, and goes home determined to tame his own Shrew.

The Katherines who had a difficult part to interpret did a wonderful job all four nights of the play. Grumio (Bernie Aisenstat) and Biondello (D'Arcy Scott), much to the delight of the audience, played their parts well.

The success of a play cannot be contributed only to the actors, but also to the efficiency of the Production Staff. These unsung heroes proved themselves worthy by upholding the high standard of stage work presented to Western audiences in the past. Properties under Elizabeth Cope; Lighting, Owen Wilson; Costumes, Mickey Gillespie, and Jack McCullough's work on the set.

The BOWLING CLUB

Wayne Johnson

Ruth Anderson

Eric Biilman

It's a strike for Wayne Johnson, president of the Bowling Club for the 1949-50 League. The enthusiastic bowlers of this club met every Tuesday after school to demonstrate their skill.

Out of the three leagues for the year, Eric Billman and his team always seemed to come out on top, while individual honors went to:

Annabella Monilaws.....	Girls' High Single
Donna Gerlitz.....	Girls' High Double
Ted Zawatsky.....	Boys' high Single
Patton	Boys' High Double

Their dance "The Bowling Ball" turned out to be a great success and at the end of this club's activities it entered its top bowlers into city league but they failed to make a place for themselves.

On May 12 new officers for next year were elected. They are as follows,

President.....	Annabella Monilaws
Secretary.....	Bev. Ewing
Treasurer.....	John Berry

1949 Stampede Float

Your Student Union is always in boosting the name of Western Canada High School. This work does not stop with the end of the school term. Last summer the Union scored another "first" when it entered the first high school float in the 1949 Calgary Stampede Parade.

This float, the work of a handful of hard working students was in the shape of a large red "W," surmounted by a prancing silver stallion. On display beneath the horse were the many athletic awards won by Western during the school term. Sitting on the float were the Drum Majorettes, and the Cheerleaders.

The float captured first prize in the Social and Recreational Section of the Parade.

THE WESTERN MIRROR . . .

Journalism, as an extra-curricular subject, has been realized in the school through the school paper, The Mirror. It is composed of news of particular interest to the student body—news about recent dances and activities, latest recordings which seem to be popular with the teen set, honor rolls, editorials, and this year had as a continued serial, "Last Lap Courage", which was written by a former Westernite, Bob Barnetson. Articles of interest in the Mirror this year were Platter Chatter, The Mirror of Fashions, Bud is Buzzing Again and Girls' and Boys' Sports.

Because of the late start on the paper and the difficulty in preparing it, there were only five editions of the Mirror, but because of the high calibre of the articles the paper was eagerly received with each edition. Near the beginning of the year an editorial board was formed to manage it, but later on, it was found to run more smoothly with two editors and reporters. This year's editors were Eleanor Nichol and Bud Liversidge. Reporters were Shirley Rose, Jean Frazer, John Plumb, Jane Baile, Mavis Mortimer, Fay Mortimer, Jack O'Neil, Barb Parr, June McFarlane, Valerie Barr and Leon Goosman.

This year, as has been the case every year since it was started fourteen years ago, the Mirror was under the direction of Mr. H. H. McKim. The paper is printed at the school printshop by several of the printing students. Winner of the Quill and Scroll Award for good editing in preceding years, the Mirror continued its high standard of journalistic value, and was appreciated by the students of the school.

Concluding another successful year, the Junior Basketball Team ably defeated Central, to clinch the trophy for the second consecutive year.

Under the capable coaching of Andy Mitchell, the Juniors played good basketball during the entire season. Elsie Mohr, Marcia Miller and June Ager racked up the highest scores.

Most of the after four games proved to be unexciting, as the score was usually very one-sided for Western. Although these games were poorly supported, Western came through with only one loss to account for.

The highlights of the year were the final games, played in the evenings. With plenty of support from the fans, the games were fast moving and very closely fought. When the final whistle blew Western won, bringing the cup back to the school for its second year.

INTERMEDIATE BASKETBALL . . .

The Western Canada High Intermediate Team, again captured the year's laurels in basketball. The cup, symbolic of City Champs, has returned to spend another year in our trophy shelves.

Coach, Bruce Ledingham, had excellent material to work with, as most of the girls played on last year's Junior Team. They had a perfect record, marred only by one tie. This year's Intermediates showed teamwork and co-operation which put them ahead in every department.

Centre Row: Annie Laing, Helen Murray.

Honors go to the Senior Girls this year. Under the watchful eye of Byron Richards, they brought back the City Senior High School Championship to Western.

The seniors managed to get through the year with only one loss and one tie. The final game was very exciting, and kept the cheering section busy throughout the game.

Joan Wilson and Pat Baker were individual stars of the year, taking scoring honors. Other outstanding members of the team were Joan Kerr and Eileen Allison.

After gaining the city championship, Western girls journeyed down to Cardston to play the Cardston Shooting Stars, Senior Provincial Champions. Western played a fast and hard game but lost to the taller and more experienced Cardston team.

This year's Junior squad gained a play-off position by winning all but one of their scheduled games. In the final game between Western and Central, the team ended the first half in championship style leading Central by a score of 12-0.

In the second half, Central bounced back and caught the Western team off guard, rolling up 22 points and at the same time holding Western to their initial 12 points. This loss gave Central the City Championship.

Under the expert coaching of Don Campbell, the team showed good form all season, but lacked the confidence and experience to make a championship team.

The team received the constant support of our cheerleaders, but was at no time given the support which the Senior Team received.

SENIOR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS

Western Senior Football team one of the finest to wear the colors of Western, outpowered and outscored Crescent to win the City Championship 22-0 on November 3. The only defeat of the season was suffered at the hands of Crescent.

On Saturday, November 5, two buses of players, fans, and cheerleaders, invaded Edmonton to tackle Scona High School for the Provincial Championship. In this Playoff game there was no doubt in the fan's mind who was the superior team. Although the players were out weighed by the bigger Scona team, they dominated the play, and suffered only a few minor injuries. Western played an excellent game, defeating Scona 22-7. This was the final game of our School Rugby season.

Honor and thanks go to Norm Kwong and Bert Ianonne, for their fine job of coaching. We all hope that Bert and Normie will return to coach another team to victory. Thanks also go to the men who supervised our games and our team: Mr. Mayell, Mr. Parker, Mr. Borgal, Mr. Steckel, and our time-keeper Mr. Woodman. The unfailing efforts of the Booster Club and the Student Union of Western to bring this team to victory cannot be praised too highly.

Defeating Crescent throughout the season placed Western in second position, and the right to play Central for the City Championship.

In the first game of the play-offs, Western was defeated to the tune of 49-31. In the second game, Western lost to an even greater disadvantage of 41 points.

The Junior team was at its peak of power at the start of the season. However, with the loss of one of their more experienced players the team faded into second position. Although they fought hard, and were defeated, they displayed a team spirit which means more to our school than any cup.

Another impressive season in Basketball was recorded this year by our Senior team. The team suffered only three losses; two games to Central and one to Crescent, but went on to take top honors for the season and the Gas Company Trophy, emblematic of Senior High School Supremacy. Both games of the two game total point series were played at Western. Western defeated Central in the first game 73-67 and in the second 47-39 to win the series by 14 points.

By winning the city championship the Seniors earned the right to play an all-star team from California. This was the highlight of the year in basketball, and drew the largest attendance of the season. California trounced Western 95-47.

On March 11, Western played Cardston at Western in the first game of a two game total point series to decide the South-Central Championship. One week later Western moved to Cardston for the second game. On this trip the team was accompanied by the Senior girls, cheerleaders, and a bus load of supporters. Western who had taken an 8 point lead in the series were beaten by 15 points and thereby lost the series.

Besides capturing the City title, the most valuable player in the league award went to Bill Patrick of the Western squad. It was presented to Bill by Bob Hebenton of the Pi Omicron Fraternity.

An insane asylum inmate noticed a farmer driving by with a load of manure. "Hey, mister," he called, "what are you going to do with that?"

"I'm going to use it on my strawberries," replied the farmer.

"And they call us crazy!" murmured the inmate.

Mr. Borgal: "Copithorne, I'm ashamed of you; do you know any more jokes like that?"

Don: "Yes Sir."

Mr. Borgal: "Well, then, I'll talk to you after class."

Two drunks got a room in a hotel. After much trouble, they succeeded in getting undressed and into bed. The first drunk said to the other, "There's someone in bed with me."

"There's someone in my bed too," said the second.

"Le's kick 'em out," suggested the first. The other agreed.

Then both commenced to kick and scuffle and finally the first drunk kicked the second out of bed.

"Hooray," said the first, "I kicked him out."

The second said mournfully, "I wasn't so lucky. The guy in my bed kicked me out."

"That's awright," said the first drunk. "You can come and sleep with me."
